

National Guard Having Good Weather

ANNUAL REVIEW NEXT SATURDAY

While the rest of Michigan sweltered, troops of the Michigan National Guard swung into their fourth day of field training with what they report as the finest weather in years. Three or four blankets per man were not too many last night.

Tuesday saw the beginning of a command post exercise in which all combat units in camp participated, with stress laid on the functioning, and co-operation of battalion, regimental, brigade and divisional staffs. The Michigan troops, in the problem concluded Wednesday night, attacked a theoretical enemy marching on Grayling from the south. The exercise was under the supervision of Lt. Col. John H. Steck of Owosso, G-3 of the 32d division. Another similar problem in which all troops in the camp will participate, and which will last three days will start July 18.

Seventy reserve officers reported here Sunday for 14 days training with the Michigan troops, representing most of the arms and services and have been assigned to various units for training as additional officers. All are from Michigan.

The Chalmers Pioneer Trophy Match of the Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association will be fired during the afternoon of July 12. It is open to teams of four men from any battalion or squadron of the Guard or Division of the Michigan Naval Reserve. The Chalmers Trophy, with gold medals for members of the winning team, will be awarded. Silver medals will be presented members of the team taking second place and a star-gauge service rifle will be presented by Lt. Col. Payson D. Foster, of Detroit, to high scorer.

Cheers greeted the news today that, in addition to the daily pay given all troops by the Federal government, the State of Michigan will add one dollar per day to enlisted men for the training period. This means that the minimum per soldier will amount to $2.00 per day.

The Camp Grayling Daily Bulletin, which keeps the troops informed of camp events, made its initial appearance yesterday. It is edited by Lt. Ray Collier, who, in civil life, is a member of the editorial staff of the Grand Rapids Herald.

Next Sunday morning will see another annual memorial exercise for the dead of the 32d Division on division hill. A public address system, loaned to the troops by the University of Michigan, will carry the speakers' messages to the thousands of soldiers who will gather on division hill for the ceremony and massed regimental bands will provide the music.

Saturday, however, will be a day of great activity when thousands of visitors assemble to see the division review tendered in honor of the Governor. The annual Governor's ball, held Saturday evening, had long been an affair for which invitations have been eagerly sought. In commenting on Saturday's activities, a prominent officer of the camp stressed the fact that visitors should not gain the impression that reviews and dances made up the training program. Saturday's divisional review will be the only one held, he said, and on Monday after the visitors have departed, the Michigan troops will be trudging through the brush, miles from the camp, and engaged in a problem that will leave little, if any, time for sleep for any of the troops for the following three days. July 21st Coast Guard Co. Grand Haven will give demonstration surfboard drill and life saving at 4:00 p. m.

Annual Review Saturday

The annual National Guard review will be held next Saturday, July 16th, at 1:00 o'clock p. m. At that time Governor Frank Murphy is expected to be in attendance.

This event is a state-wide attraction and thousands come here annually to witness this fine military spectacle.

Criminal Cases Crowd Calendar

With eight criminal cases on the July Circuit Court calendar, Judge Shaffer had a very busy but brief session in Circuit court. All cases were heard and court closed Wednesday noon. However no sentences were passed out, and Judge Shaffer will be back in Grayling next Monday to do so.

Raymond Jordan charged with assault with intent to commit the crime of murder, plead not guilty on arraignment, and the case will come up before a jury at the October term of court. This case grew out of a quarrel between Jordan and Roscoe Bancroft, that occurred on the night of May 31st, on the highway between Beaver Creek and Grayling. The men, with others, had been at a party at the Allen home in Beaver Creek and returning home the two men are reported to have gotten into an argument when Jordan struck Bancroft with a truck crank, the blow striking him along side of the face as he dodged to escape it.

Mancel Cone Jr. and Theodore Irelan, charged with breaking into some cottages on the river and stealing some of their contents, both plead guilty and are awaiting sentence. Drawn into these cases also was Frank Irelan, brother of the latter, who was charged with receiving stolen things that were stolen from the cottages. Irelan plead guilty and is also awaiting sentence.

Ezra Essner charged with larceny plead guilty to removing two tires and tubes from a car that had been left at the side of the road. Edgar Douglas plead guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge. Both are awaiting sentence.

The appeal cases of Gaylord Knight and William Emery of Roscommon, charged with violation of the Game laws, were continued to the October term.

Frank LaMotte was rendered a judgment of $100.00 and costs in the trespass case against Tophite SanCartier. However the cases of the same nature against SanCartier by Bayward and Earline LaMotte were continued. These cases grew out of an accident in which the SanCartier car was involved.

Westinghouse Electrical Supply Company was rendered a default judgment in the assumption case against C. M. Church, of $471.37 and costs.

Orders were signed permitting the sale of property in the assignment case for the benefit of creditors of Marius Hanson.

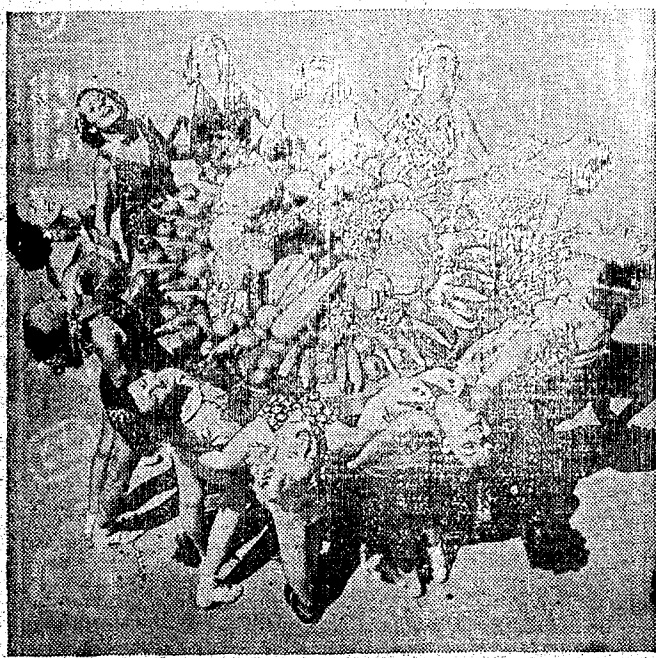

The case of Enus Anderson vs. Nick Schjotz and Anna Schjotz was dismissed.

Six chancery cases that have been on the calendar for some time were continued.

New Parking Plan Stirs Up Objection

COUNCIL HOLDS OPEN MEETING TO DISCUSS QUESTION

With the taking effect of Grayling's new traffic ordinance and the posting of parking signs, considerable discussion was raised. Certain closed areas caused hardships with some places. There was also some objection to the employment of a traffic officer.

This matter naturally required some clarification and possible changes. Accordingly on Tuesday evening the city council held an open meeting for the purpose of discussing the questions that had been raised.

Parking signs have been placed in a number of downtown places, showing motorists just what was required. Cedar street, better known as U.S. 27 is only 66 feet in width and here it had been determined that all parking should be parallel with the street. Michigan avenue, in the business district was determined that parking should be diagonal.

In addition there are signs where no parking is allowed. That is especially in front of fire plugs, street corners, alleys, garages, etc. And on the east side of U.S. 27 between the Alfred Hanson garage and Plaza Grill all parking was prohibited. This latter plan, according to some of the places of business located on that side of the street, was depriving them of their usual patronage, because of the inconvenience of motorists in reaching their places. This latter trouble was remedied by the council when restrictions were removed and parallel parking allowed at all places except in front of service stations and driveways. The new parking ordinance in no instance closes any streets against parking except in places where restrictions are plainly indicated by the yellow and black signs.

Cedar street is narrow and diagonal parking is dangerous because cars leaving the curbs must back directly into approaching traffic. And in some instances trucks parked in that area extended over onto the pavement, making it dangerous for cars to pass. Anyone having had to drive in the downtown district when there was diagonal parking will recall that at times he must wait until some other car had passed thru the narrow lane before he could proceed. These difficulties are some of those the City council wished to correct in order to improve the traffic service within the city.

The ordinance is so drafted that it is flexible in that it permits of regulations by means of parking signs. Before the meeting closed it seemed to be the general opinion that the council was doing a good job and encouraged its continuation.

Request was made for the continued operation of the caution traffic light on the U.S. 27 and Michigan avenue intersection, and a motion was carried to keep it lit at all hours of the day and night until after Labor day.

There was some suggestion that tourists, seeing the parking regulations, refused to stop in Grayling. It does seem that tourists would welcome the safety that is assured by well provided traffic regulations. At least the better class of them would and they are the kind we want to stop here.

For Grayling to maintain a traffic officer seemed to shock the sensibilities of some people, they, apparently, feeling that Grayling was trying big-city stuff. That, however, is far from the truth. With the new traffic regulations going into effect it is quite necessary that there is someone on hand to explain them and to see that they are enforced. Kenneth Hoessli is courteous and friendly and understands his responsibilities and is doing a good job.

A slight contention between Hoessli and some of the National Guard truck drivers was quickly straightened out when City Manager George Granger and City Attorney Charles E. Moore took the matter up with Provost Marshall Major Oscar Ostrander. He was fully in accord with the local regulations and welcomed some of the provisions. He since that has provided military patrol to assist in the regulation of M.N.G. motorists.

MICHELSON MEMORIAL CHURCH

Next Sunday services at Michelson Memorial Church:
10:00 a. m.—Junior Church.
11:00 a. m.—Regular Church service.

We urge all our members to give these services their moral support and to greet the strangers.

Ernest Richards, Frederic Man, Dead

Ernest J. Richards, age 51 years, a well known resident of Crawford County since 1910, passed away at his home in Frederic Sunday evening, after being an invalid for 19 years. Mr. Richards was stricken with paralysis in 1919 and although he recovered somewhat after a time it has been eleven years since he was able to walk.

Ernest John Richards was born in Bay City July 9, 1887, and on April 2, 1907 was united in marriage to Anna Gendron of Frederic. Seven children were born to the union, one daughter Annabelle dying in infancy. The family came to Grayling in 1910 and Mr. Richards was employed for Chris Hanson. Later he drove auto livery for Esbern Hanson and was employed as deliveryman in the M. Simpson and Salling Hanson Co. groceries. In 1918 he launched into business for himself, operating a restaurant in the Fischer building. Ill health forced him to discontinue and in 1922 the family moved to the B. Peter Johnson farm, and have resided in Frederic since.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning with services at St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. James Moloney officiating. Interment was in the Frederic cemetery, cousins of the deceased acting as pallbearers, Frank, John and Walter LaMotte, Floyd, Roy and Leo Lovely.

Surviving the deceased besides the widow are three daughters and three sons, Mrs. Donald A. Sheldon (Margaret) Orsago, Mich.; Mrs. Bonner H. Lintz, (Beatrice), Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. John Kellogg, (Ethel), Ernest Theodore, Freeborn, Wilson and William at home. There also are five grandchildren, and three brothers and three sisters, Wilfred, Frank and George Richards, and Mrs. Salina Soderburg, Lansing; Mrs. Mary Gregoire, Washburn, Wis.; Mrs. Mary Joseph, Detroit.

Among those who came to be in attendance at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Goodrick, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jacobs and Mrs. Simon Sivras, Flint; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barnes, Saginaw.

The family have the sympathy of many Frederic and Grayling friends in their sorrow.

DEPLORABLE CONDITION AT DISPOSAL PLANT

Destruction and damages done at Grayling's new sewage disposal plant by, presumably, young boys, was brot up at the special council meeting Tuesday night.

Rifle shots have damaged not only window glass but some of the inside apparatus, some of which was expensive to replace. Besides such damage, the breaking of glass containers filled with deadly gas, made it extremely hazardous for people to enter certain compartments where gas has been able to escape because of this breakage, which was liable to cause quick death. A few sniffs of this gas would burn out the lungs.

In spite of extreme precaution to keep people protected from dangers there, some parents have permitted their children to play about the premises and entering places where they were forbidden.

Parents should feel the responsibilities of keeping their children away from the plant unless accompanied by adults, for the safety of their children.

NEW PASTOR AND FAMILY ARRIVE

The Rev. Mr. H. W. Kuhlman, newly appointed pastor of Michelson Memorial church, comes to his new appointment with high hopes and lofty purpose to serve. He is of Danish descent, having come from Schleswig Holstein when a boy. His boyhood days were spent in Iowa. In 1903 he received his B. A. degree from Cornell College. In 1907 he took one year of post graduate work at New York University. In 1908 he completed a three-year course at Drew University where he received his B. D. degree. Most of his ministry was given in Michigan, serving Addison, Alpena, Detroit, Caro and Saginaw. Last year Mr. Kuhlman served as president of Saginaw Valley Ministerial Association. He also is a member of the Conference Board of Stewards. For many years he was a member of Exchange Club, Remington Gun Club, Alpena and numerous fraternal groups.

He has one son and two daughters, all married. Two daughters live in Saginaw and the son is assistant sales manager of Cooper Wells Co., St. Joseph, Mich.

Mrs. Kuhlman received her education at Upper Iowa University, and is an Iowa girl. The pastor and his good wife also have in their home an accomplished young lady who was graduated from High school this year. She is an orphan child who has made her home with the Kuhlman family for eleven years and with relatives the rest of her life. She is now prepared to be a real helper in the home and in the church. A most hearty welcome has been accorded the Kuhlman family and they begin their work here with much promise.

CHERRY FESTIVAL NOW IN FULL SWING

Estimate 100,000 People Thronging Traverse City Streets

With an estimated crowd of one hundred thousand people thronging the streets of Traverse City, the National Cherry Festival is in full swing and the various events of the three-day celebration are being run off according to schedule.

The mid-summer mardi gras was officially opened Wednesday morning with the arrival of Queen Josephine LaFraniar and her court on the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba, escorted by eight ships of the Great Lakes Naval Training Fleet.

The Queen's Ball on Wednesday night was the social highlight of the festival, with such important dignitaries as Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Congressman Albert Engel attending and with Queen Josephine leading the grand march.

On Friday afternoon at one o'clock the Grand Floral Parade, climaxing event of the festival for which the huge crowds have been waiting, will begin. Riding in the procession will be Governor Frank Murphy, mounted on a prize saddle horse. An ardent horseman, Governor Murphy expressed a desire this year to take active part in the beautiful three mile long parade.

The Festival will be officially closed Friday night with a display of fireworks and a torchlight boat parade across Grand Traverse Bay.

ROBINSON KIDDIE KAPERS JULY 20TH

Proceeds For Benefit of Boy Scouts

Eddie Robinson again presents one of his popular musical revues to the people of Grayling. "Kiddie Kapers" a musical comedy dance revue, with a bevy of Grayling youngsters, promises to be superior to anything Grayling people have ever seen before in this line.

It will be presented Wednesday, July 20th at the High School auditorium. Admission price is 35c for adults and 25c for children. This is sponsored by the Grayling Kiwanis club and proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Boy Scouts. It is a most worthy cause and deserves a liberal patronage from Grayling people.

Dr. Hathaway Coming

Dr. Hathaway, Optometrist of Pontiac, will be in Grayling Thursday and Friday, July 14th and 15th, at his office in Shoppenagons Annex. Phone 55-30-2 appointment.

Trustees Reelected At School Meeting

About fifty were in attendance at the annual school meeting Monday evening. The usual routine business was transacted. President T. P. Peterson presided. Secretary Roy O. Milnes read the reports of the meeting and the financial statement. The latter report will be published in the Avalanche soon for the convenience of those wishing detailed accounting of the monies received and expended during the past year.

The sum of $41,800.00 was voted for the school budget for the ensuing year.

In the election of trustees for the next three years, Emil Giegling and Roy O. Milnes were elected unanimously to succeed themselves.

STATE EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

Headquarters for Unemployment Compensation information and service have been installed in 56 offices. In 115 other communities throughout the state, itinerant service is being given in the employment field by representatives working out of one of the branch or district offices.

Under the law, all unemployed persons desiring to file claims for job insurance benefits must first register for work at one of the free, public employment offices. They must also file their claims for benefits at these offices.

All persons seeking jobs, whether or not they are covered by the unemployment compensation law, may register at the offices for work and that all employers should avail themselves of the Employment Service's free assistance in finding them qualified and capable workers.

West Branch is the nearest unemployment office. Itinerant service is furnished the first and third Mondays of each month at the court house, Grayling.

VOTERS NOT TO DISCLOSE PARTY AFFILIATIONS IN PRIMARY ELECTION

Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, who according to law is the chief election official, calls attention to Act No. 37, P. A. of 1937, which provides for a secret ballot at partisan primaries throughout the state. Its purpose is to eliminate the necessity of an elector disclosing his or her party preference, as has been the requirement heretofore.

Under the old law, when a voter visited the polling place to vote in a partisan primary election, the clerk, after locating the voter's name and address in the poll book and determining that you were a qualified voter, asked which party ticket was preferred and gave you the ticket or ballot requested.

Under the new law, the voter, after being certified by the election clerk, will be handed a set of ballots, each bearing the same number and stapled together in the upper left hand corner. The election inspector who hands out the ballots, instructs the voter to vote one of the ballots only. The voter takes these ballots into the voting compartment and marks the party ticket preferred. After marking the ballot the voter detaches it from the other ballots and folds it with the perforated on numbered corner outside. The voter hands both ballots, folded the same and separately, to the election inspector, designating the voted ballot by saying, "I've marked this one," "I voted this one," or by some other indicating words. The inspector will then place the marked ballot in the ballot box marked "Voted Ballots" and the blank ballots in the box marked "Blank Ballots." At no time will any one be able to tell the party affiliation of the voter.

NOWICKI IS DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR LT. GOV.

In answer to the inquiries of my many friends throughout Michigan as to my political plans for this coming fall, I want to state that I will be a candidate for re-election to the office of Lieutenant Governor.

In making this announcement, I am deeply appreciative of the many suggestions and efforts made that I be a candidate for the office of Governor; however, in the interest of party harmony and solidarity it is advisable that such action be deferred for the future.

Leo J. Nowicki.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

Thursday, July 15, 1915

"Mine Host," T. E. Douglas, has realized that his patrons were deserving of better quarters than he had been able to provide them, therefore early this spring the dirt began to fly and workmen started the erection of a fine addition to his hotel and now there stands about ready for occupancy the finest hostelry of its kind in Northern Michigan. With the new addition the hotel will now have available 22 guest rooms, three baths, a dining room size 21 x 30 feet. Everything possible for the pleasure and comfort of the guests is provided.

Mrs. Henry J. Lord passed away Friday at Michigan State hospital, after a brief illness. The family had been assured of her speedy recovery and her death came as a surprise. Deceased was a resident in Lewiston and also lived in Gaylord eleven years.

Tommy—Can't, teacher—ain't got lantern jaws like Billy!

TOO MANY LAWS NOW

Mr. Goodsole—Don't you think new reform legislation will tend to make men more law abiding?

Mr. Wetmore—I don't think so. It will merely give them more laws to break.

NOT UP ON HIS I. Q.

"What does modus operandi mean?"

"Mode of operating, of course."

"Well, I don't understand these medical terms."

WRONG NUMBER

"How did you like jury duty?"

"I didn't like it a bit. The judge addressed me as 'my good woman,' and I'm not a good woman. I'm strictly modern, smoke, drink, cocktail 'n' everything."

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

"Smith is the most truthful man I know."

"Why do you say that?"

"He had a black eye last week. When I asked him how he got it, he told me that a man hit him!"

By

LEONARD A. BARRETT

Peace is not a mere sentiment to be believed and accepted, but a task to be accomplished. It is a continuous creative task, and its motivating power must come from within. Our efforts to avert war have been external, force and fear. We can no more legislate ourselves into a state of permanent peace or by enlarged military strength, hasten the day when "swords shall be beaten into plowshares" than we can "make clean the outside of the cup and the platter, while the inward part is full of wickedness." Doubtless we all remember the noise and glamour of Armistice day. The aftermath recalls those lines of Kipling—

"The tumult and the shouting dies; The captains and the kings depart; Still stands thine ancient sacrifice, An humble and a contrite heart."

We were fighting to make the world safe for democracy, and failed at a crucial opportunity, because at the treaty of Versailles, we forgot the spirit of that ancient sacrifice—an humble and a contrite heart. To that council table, where Shylock demanded at all costs, his pound of flesh. To that treaty, through force and fear, the seal of warring nations was affixed, with the result that the treaty collapsed, and Europe is again at the mercy of the god of war. Again, peace cannot be enforced. It is not a cloak to be set up on the outside; it is a spirit within which demands action. It is a task to be accomplished and not a mere sentiment to be accepted.

In these days when war clouds are ever on the horizon, peacemakers dare not be mere dreamers and idealists.

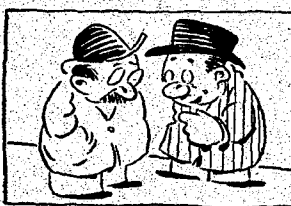

The task challenging every peacemaker is to help our country earn the esteem and not the hatred of the world.

That was an important hour in the history of our country when Woodrow Wilson read before congress the terms of the Armistice. The heart of that message is expressed in a few lines which are prophetic of the pathway to permanent peace: "To conquer with arms is to make only a temporary conquest; to conquer the world by earning its esteem is to make a permanent conquest."

Every peacemaker should be a lover of peace. We can give away only that which we possess. We cannot convince another of something we ourselves do not honestly believe. Do we honestly want peace, or are we content so long as we get our share of the spoils? Muriel Lester, the Jane Addams of London, writes: "Train yourselves to be ambassadors of reconciliation, untrammelled by the conventionalities of diplomacy." An artist moulded out of bronze a statue entitled, "Peace Victorious." Two figures are struggling, and above their bodies stands a figure of Peace. It separates the two contestants, and holding them apart, seems to say, "This fight must stop. Which will you have—arbitration or strangulation?" These are the alternatives which civilization must face. Arbitration or strangulation!

Must Crack the Nuts
Nuts are given us, but we must crack them ourselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Flower returned Sunday from a two week's vacation spent in northern Michigan, Algoma and Ritom, Wisconsin. They attended a home coming in Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles David of Flint are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Egge Bugby. Joyce and Robert Bugby, who had been visiting them in Flint, returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wucker and daughter Dixieanna of Logansport, Ind., returned to their home Friday after spending a week visiting the former's sister Mrs. Jens Ziebell and family. The families enjoyed a canoe trip down the AuSable one day during their stay.

Judge Petersen's Court Busy

Monday was a busy day in Justice court, when several cases came up for disposal before Judge Hans Petersen.

J. P. Morgan of Detroit was arrested and plead guilty to a reckless driving charge and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25.00 and costs. Driving his Chrysler automobile and going around the bend at the sand hill between Grayling and Frederic, it is reported his automobile rammed a beer truck going south and driven by Norman Johnston of the Soo. In striking the truck the dual back wheels were knocked from under the truck.

Shirley Pulver, driving with Morgan, was arrested on a disorderly count and paid $5.00 and costs.

A reckless driving charge was placed against L. Z. Reigle, a Michigan National Guard officer, of Camp Grayling, who plead guilty and was fined $25.00 and costs. Driving to Grayling from the military reservation Saturday night his car struck an automobile driven by Mrs. Glen C. Penard of Detroit, badly damaging it, on M-93 at the curve at Collen's landing.

Edward Herman and wife Eva Herman, Jacqueline Parish and Louise Rice were arrested Saturday night by State Police on a disorderly conduct charge, pleading guilty Monday, each were sentenced by Judge Petersen to pay $5.00 and costs. The group travel with the Barkoot Bros., carnival, now showing here.

Merchants Adopt "Appreciation Day" Sales Plan

PLAN INVESTIGATED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Herbert Stanley, principal speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon Wednesday, explained the sales promotion plan for merchants known as "Appreciation Day." This plan is being operated in many Michigan cities and everywhere in those cities the merchants are reported to be enthusiastic over it.

The plan was described by Mr. Stanley about two weeks ago at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Not wishing to take too much for granted, the plan was investigated by President Royal Wright and other C. of C. officers. Many letters were sent out to similar organizations in Michigan and other states and in every reply there was strong endorsement of the plan. Just at this time the Avalanche isn't in a position to outline the plan to its readers. This, however, will be done in a very complete way later.

In the meantime Mr. Stanley is calling on Grayling merchants and he says that every one he has called upon has enthusiastically approved it and he expects to have at least 40 merchants participating. It is the opinion of the officers of the C. of C. that this is going to be of great value to the merchants of Grayling, and to the citizens within Grayling's trade area.

Doings of Our Gang Club

Thirteen members of Our Gang were nicely entertained by Mrs. Carl Larson Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Earl Connin of Adrian was a guest.

After a short business session a reading by Mrs. Hurl Deckrow, "The Test", by Edgar A. Guest, was enjoyed.

Birthday gifts for July were given to Mrs. Andrew Beck, Mrs. Earl Broadbent and Mrs. Carl Larson. Games took up the remainder of the afternoon with high scores being held by Mrs. N. VanNatter, Mrs. George Clise, Mrs. Larson, Mrs. Kenneth Clise and Mrs. Barton Wakeley.

Mrs. Larry Balch will be the hostess at the meeting on July 21.

John Schierlinger Seriously Injured

John Schierlinger, better known to Grayling friends as "Byerhonius", lies in Mercy Hospital with serious injuries received in an auto accident that occurred late Tuesday night on Highway 208. Mr. Schierlinger was a passenger in an automobile driven by Lewis LaBlond of Detroit and the car collided with one driven by Charles Kellogg of Lovells.

LaBlond is being held in the County jail on a charge of drunk driving, pending further investigation into the accident.

Mr. Schierlinger, who owns property on the river, has spent his summers here for many years and is very well known. His home is in Detroit.

Suggestions On Retail Advertising

Advertise Real Bargains

The town of Whitman, Mass., in combatting stagnant shopping season with city-wide sales event in advance notice stated: "Everywhere in cities, in towns, hamlets, groups of enlightened merchants are mobilizing, pooling their efforts, co-operating with one another to promote community sales." They staged a three-day carnival to coincide with a paving opening with a parade, noise makers, speakers, grab bags for youngsters, merchandise prizes via the coupon route. In commenting on the event, the editor said: "A good excuse to promote a sale is the important factor in its ultimate success. At next importance is playing up to the kiddies. Get the children talking and you are inside the home with your message to the grown-ups. Last, to make the sale successful, advertise only real bargains—honest-to-goodness markdowns."

Things Customers Like in a Store

1. Good assortment of well-arranged stock.
2. Prices right and in plain sight.
3. Exchange and money back without question.
4. Truthfulness about merchandise.
5. Careful attention to children and servants.
6. Accurate filling of telephone orders.
7. The same price to everybody.
8. An attractive, convenient store.
9. Chairs for rest when selecting goods, then take a little time to choose.

Things Customers Do NOT Like in a Store

1. Too much pressure to buy.
2. Long waits for service, change, or parcels.
3. False promises about deliveries.
4. Prices out of line with values.
5. Careless or unnecessary handling of articles or goods and things that go into the mouth.
6. Overheated, underheated and poorly ventilated stores.
7. Mistakes and indifferent attitude of sales-people.
8. Idlers inside or outside the store.
9. Carelessly wrapped parcels.
10. Being told they are hard to fit or hard to please.

Don't Bury the Advertised Leaders

An important factor in the success of a co-operative community sale is the prominent display of advertised leaders. The modern housewife who shops through her newspaper likes to locate the advertised article the instant she enters the store. She becomes suspicious or hostile when she finds an advertised item buried away under a counter, where it will not be seen. Her anger is justified, too. Merchants should be impressed again and again of the primary fact that advertising creates shopper circulation in the store and that this shopper circulation results in sale of non-advertised goods. Montgomery and Ward advertising executives, for example, definitely state that the greatest benefit from newspaper advertising comes, not from the sale of advertised goods, but from the sale of non-advertised goods. The leader has but one function, to attract attention, to get the consumer into the store.

Why Retailers Use Newspaper Advertising

For retailers to maintain the huge volume of business—$32,000,000,000 in 1937—the consumers must be told where, what, and when and how to buy. Because newspapers are read by virtually all consumers, retailers depend primarily on newspaper advertising. People turn consciously toward newspaper advertising to aid them in their buying decisions. Many consumers consult no other source. This is why retailers use far more newspaper advertising than any other kind. Last year their newspaper advertising expenditures amounted to more than $382,000,000.

Play Up Specials

Contrary to popular conception, secondary items are given more emphasis and attract more attention in a newspaper advertisement if the copy plays up only a few specials. Another timely warning concerns the number of items carried in the advertisement. Do not attempt to "stuff" every article on the shelves into a few inches of newspaper space. Concentrate on a few items that will bring people into the merchant's store. If the message accomplishes this end, it has served its purpose. The merchant's opportunity then will be to sell the articles not mentioned in the newspaper ad.

Importance of Window Display

The content of show windows should be gauged by the type of business being advertised. Groceries, drugs and allied lines demand mass arrangements of merchandise with accompanying advertising pieces, prominent price signs and posters. On the other hand, a single suite of furniture will draw more attention than a dozen chairs, tables and divans. As with advertising, the merchant can best judge the type of window display most proper for his business by viewing the displays used by metropolitan contemporaries. The next time the merchant visits a large city, pay special attention to display methods. Attention to better and more attractive window displays, supplementing the newspaper advertising, will pay dividends in greater consumer interest in your be glad to furnish proofs of the home town. The newspaper will be glad to furnish proofs of the store advertisement which can be posted in the store window or other prominent places. Connection of the newspaper advertisement with the store and its window display develops a subconscious relationship between the consumer and the store. This mental relationship grows as the advertising-display connection is continued.

Business in a small town depends not only upon the individual efficiency of the leaders but on the collective efficiency of all the dealers in the town. Several attractive stores draw more trade to the town than one attractive store. Complete lines of all types of goods are important—groceries, hardware, clothing, dry goods, building materials, furniture, automobile parts, farm equipment, seeds, good banks, repair shops, etc.

Down River News (McMaster Bridge)

Wedding bells are ringing at the AuSable Riverside Resort. Mr. William R. Hazen, cousin to the ball player by the same name, and Miss Emma Harriet Lilke, both of Detroit; also Mr. George Froleklich and Miss Ruth May Gable of Detroit. Both couples were united in marriage at their home city and immediately after the church wedding they headed their car for the AuSable Riverside Resort, where cottages had been reserved for them. The usual old pair of shoes, and "Just Married" signs were on their cars, causing considerable fun and horn tooting on their way here. Both bridegrooms were college chums and studied for the ministry at Fort Wayne, Ind. While here the happy couples enjoyed a sightseeing trip on Old Man River, and caught a number of real trout, for which our river is famous.

Hammers are loudly sounding a cheerful tune as they pound away, building the new cabin near the McMaster bridge. Mr. Harry Massey recently purchased a site from the Daly Estate, where a very fine cabin is being built.

Mr. Fred Brailey of Pontiac, a contractor and builder, is enjoying a few days at his Jack Pine cabin, near McMaster bridge. Mr. Gammeter, one of the new owners of Linger Longer Club, is here from Akron, Ohio, and it is rumored that considerable building and other improvement will be under way in the near future. Mr. Orlo Shreve and Mrs. Gerald of West Branch will be retained as caretaker and housekeeper respectively.

Adam Sheppard, ex-mayor of Bay City, has his new cabin well under way and comes here frequently to inspect the building operations and enjoy the beauties of this wonderful section in Crawford county.

Mr. Frank Umbelocher, chief engineer of the Chicago Light & Power Co., brought his family along to visit with Mrs. V. L. Cunningham, while he tried his skill at catching some of our famous brown and rainbow trout from the beautiful AuSable.

Mr. Joseph Drake, superintendent of the Chicago Light & Power Co., arrived at the AuSable Riverside Resort with his beautiful house trailer, and hopes to enjoy some real trout feast before his return.

James Daly has been putting the finishing touches to his new cabin which was recently built near McMaster Bridge. Furniture will be set in time for the latter part of the trout season. Mr. Daly will be here with friends for the hunting season.

Mr. Nathan Potter and family of Ann Arbor enjoyed a few days at their cabin on the AuSable.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trigger of Oscoda, with friends, are guests at the AuSable Riverside Resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hidey, with their married daughter and son-in-law are guests at the AuSable Riverside Resort. The Hidey family have traveled extensively but claim this the most beautiful spot in all their travels. Mr. Hidey is a former superintendent of Mr. J. A. Utley of Detroit.

Mr. G. F. Willis of Jackson is visiting with friends at the AuSable Riverside Resort. Mr. Willis has been here several times and usually gets a splendid catch of our famous trout.

Mr. Willis Heinzelman, manager of the Bell Telephone Co., at Ionia, is spending his vacation at the AuSable Riverside Resort. Accompanying him are his wife and daughter. The Manager stated he never cared for fish until he tasted of a 21-inch German brown caught in the cold clear waters of the famous AuSable in Crawford County.

Mr. Nelson T. White of Saginaw, is a guest at Rawley Burrell's beautiful cabin near McMaster's Bridge.

Morley Boyd of the Boyd Lumber Company, Saginaw, and Mr. Edward Schust, retired owner of the Sunshine Biscuit Co., a resident at St. Petersburg, Fla., were guests at AuSable Riverside Resort at McMaster's Bridge.

Mr. Chan Symons, and family, wholesale grocers of Saginaw, are spending most of their time at their cabin near McMaster's Bridge. Mr. Symons and Mr. Adam Sheppard are frequent callers at the AuSable Riverside Resort, and both are greatly interested in the resort's progress.

Mr. George S. Martindale, attorney of Detroit, is at his cabin near McMaster's Bridge. Mr. Martindale brings his servants along in order that his friends shall have the best possible time.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Donahay, apartment house owners of Detroit, were guests of Mrs. V. L. Cunningham as they hurried to her in their grief caused by the death of their only son.

Health Fears Called Danger

America has become so health-conscious that many people are afraid to live for fear they may die, declared Dr. Thurman E. Rice, of the Indiana State Board of Health, in an address at the University of Michigan recently. Actually, he said, such living is death itself, and we should expend more effort toward improving the quality of life rather than giving so much time to increasing its length.

Fear can accomplish little toward keeping people healthy, Dr. Rice asserted, urging his audience instead to follow a positive program of happy, purposeful living—living that has for its objective something more than one's own personal comfort and continuation. Personal health Dr. Rice pointed out, is but a by-product of this type of sane, honest living. Of course we should take care of our bodies, be explained, but health should not be the major objective of existence.

A few minutes a day given to the elemental care of the body is all that is necessary, Dr. Rice said; more than that is very likely to be meddling. The man or woman who spends much time seeking that which he or she already has, he said, is likely to succeed only in remembering how miserable he or she may be.
